IN MEMORY OF HEROES PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

Corner-Stone Laid at Court-house for a Splendid Monument.

LARGE CROWD AT CEREMONY

The Monument Will Be of Virginia Granite and the Figure a Soldier in Bronze.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY, VA., Oct. 18.—About one thousand people gathered at the courthouse to-day to witness the laying of the corner-stone to a monument to be erected in honor of the memory of the Confederate soldiers of Princess Anne county.

The stone was laid with impressive Masonic ceremonies, presided over by Right Worshipful L. Jack Oliver, D. G. M. The various musical selections were ably rendered by Miss Sadie Krute Scott.

Speeches were made by Judge J. M. Keeling and John M. Barron.

The movement, the consummation of which will be the erection of the monument, was started on October 9th, 1900, by the Daughters of the Confederacy, and the Confederate Veterans of this county. Great credit is due to those who have so nobly contributed their time and money and made the building of this monument possible.

Among the ladies who have been prominently identified with this movement since its inception, may be mentioned Mrs. E. M. Seneca, Mrs. Major J. T. Woodhouse, Mrs. A. M. Styron, Miss Frances Woodhouse and if space permitted we could mention many others who have contributed to make it a success. The monument is to be made of Petersburg granite and executed from base to figure at the works of Charles Miller Walsh's Marble and Granite Works, of Petersburg, who have erected some fifteen or twenty of the leading county monuments in this and other Southern States. The Princess Anne monument is to be eight feet high, including the figure, and the lower die of monument will be the words, "Princess Anne County Confederate Heroes." On the main die of monument will be carved the State seal of Virginia on front, with suitable mottoes on the other three sides.

The monument complete and erected will cost approximately $2,100.

Pierce, niece and nephew of the bride, will be the bridesmaids.

The bride and groom, after a few weeks in the Northern cities, will be at home to their many friends in Cumberland, Md.
